

Dr. Jeff Sklar
Chiropractor

Dr. Sklar has practiced chiropractor medicine for over 20 years. He graduated Magna Cum Laude from Palmer University of Chiropractic '97 where he was recognized for clinical excellence. For the next decade, he treated patients in Old City Philadelphia at his integrative healing arts center, Triune Wellness. In 2009 he was recruited to be the Medical Director of Chiropractic Services for Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) in Philadelphia. As a trailblazer in the profession, Dr. Sklar developed chiropractic protocols to treat patients struggling with the side effects of cancer treatment. Countless patients under his care have found relief from the challenges of chemotherapy induced neuropathy, radiation induced tissue fibrosis and tightness, GI/bowel issues, headaches, fatigue, sleep disturbances, as well as muscle and joint pain. Patient outcomes most often result in reduced pain, improved energy and focus, with optimized function throughout the body's frame and systems.

Dr. Sklar's many published case reports can be found online or on his website, www.sklarchiro.com. Dr. Sklar is internationally recognized as a leader in his field and has been a guest lecturer and instructor at numerous chiropractic universities, seminars and conventions in the USA and overseas.

Dr. Sklar is a past recipient of the CTCA Starfish Award for Innovation. He has been recognized by New York Chiropractic College and Palmer University for his contributions to the profession. He is currently serving in his 10th year on the Board of Directors for the Pennsylvania Chiropractic association. Through his philosophy of patient-centered care, Dr. Sklar believes in partnering with patients and their support team. Through a collaborative avenue of care and treatment, Dr. Sklar has seen patients thrive beyond their lives' greatest challenge.
